LOW VALUATION OF PLANT.

A Councilman Says Engineer Fitzgerald Values Contra Costa Works at Between Two and Three Millions.

"When will the Council develop its plans regarding the proposed bond issue?" inquired a TRIBUNE reporter of a Councilman this morning.

"As soon as the report of Engineer Desmond Fitzgerald on the question of water supply is presented to the Council," was the reply.

"When will that be?"

"It was to have been presented to the Council last night, but the presentation was delayed for some reason. I hope it will be presented next Monday night, for the continued delay is growing tiresome. I am pestered to death with questions I cannot answer, and the people are growing impatient. I am anxious to get the report before them at the earliest possible moment."

"What does Engineer Fitzgerald value the Contra Costa plant at?"

"I can't tell you that. I will say this much, however. The published reports regarding his valuation are all wrong. The papers are off this time." And the Councilman gave a satisfied chuckle.

"Have they got the figures too low or too high?"

"Too high."

"Is his valuation above $8,000,000?"

"No."

"Is it above $5,000,000?"

"No."

"Is it $4,000,000?"

"No."

"Is it $3,000,000?"

"No."

"Is it $2,000,000?"

"Now you are getting warm. You have got somewhere in the neighborhood."

"What is the figure?"

"Now, you must excuse me from answering further questions. If you will wait till Monday night you will get the report in full. By the way, the papers are wrong in another assumption as to the scope of Mr. Fitzgerald's report."

"In what respect were they wrong?"

"You will see when the time comes. But I will say that in the respect alluded to the report falls short of my anticipation of what it should have been. This is no fault of Mr. Fitzgerald's, however. He followed his instructions."

"What valuation did he place on the company's water rights?"

"Can't tell you. Maybe he wasn't asked to value water rights."

"What did he value the water in Lake Chabot at?"

"There, I have said all I am going to say."

"How much did he figure the value of the distributing system?"

"That I cannot say, at present."

"But you do say his valuation was in the neighborhood of $2,000,000?"

"Will the Mayor recommend the purchase of the Contra Costa plant?"

"Ask the Mayor," was the curt response.

"Now cut off your questions."

HUNDRED KILLED IN WRECK.

Paris Underground Train is Wrecked and Burned.

Terrible Struggle Among the Passengers in the Tunnel.

PARIS, August 11.—Eighty-four bodies have been recovered and the death list probably will exceed one hundred in the underground railway disaster last night.

The accident, which occurred on the Metropolitan Electric Railway, assumed the proportions of an awful catastrophe during the early hours today when more than four score bodies of the burned and suffocated victims were removed from the subterranean passage. The work continues and indications are that the death list will perhaps exceed five score.

AWFUL SCENES.

The scenes at the mouth of the tunnel where the victims were brought forth were the most heartrending in the history of the city. Crowds of weeping men, women and children struggled forward in an effort to recognize their missing relatives and friends. Most of the victims are from the middle and working classes, as the trains were carrying them home from their work. Although the accident occurred at 8 o'clock last evening, the officials and firemen were unable to descend into the tunnel this morning, owing to the blinding clouds of smoke from the burning train.

Frequent attempts were made by heroic volunteers whom it was necessary to rescue, half suffocated, and carry them away to the hospital.

DEAD ON GROUND.

At 3 o'clock Sergeant Ahrens, wearing a respirator, succeeded in making the descent. He remained seven minutes and brought out the first information to the effect that corpses were strewn all about the roadway in the tunnel. Then he collapsed and was taken to the hospital.

Twenty minutes later firemen forced their way down through the tunnel station at Menilmontant and returned soon afterwards with seven bodies—three men, two young boys and two young women. These persons had been asphyxiated, as their positions showed they had been groping their way through the smoke that filled the tunnel, seeking a way to escape, when they were overcome.

RECOVERING BODIES.

The work of bringing up bodies went on steadily after that, under the personal direction of Prefect of Police Lepine, who summoned a large reserve force to hold back the surging crowd, including the relatives of the victims.

Long lines of ambulances were brought into requisition and the bodies were carried to the morgue and the nearby military barracks. After daylight the crowds at the entrance of the tunnel increased to

POPE PIUS X. FAINTS.

He is Stricken and Nearly Falls While Celebrating Mass in St. Peter's.

ROME August 11.—Just a week has elapsed since the election of Pius X and he has been already overcome by the unaccustomed strain of his Pontifical duties. This morning he fainted while at mass. His collapse is considered to be due to heart weakness, aggravated by fatigue. Even though courage urge him not to concede audiences to all comers and to render himself less accessible.

COMPLETE REST.

Dr. Lappont recommended the Pope to take a complete rest. He has ordered all audiences postponed. The Pope, however, cannot understand the necessity of sparing himself and said to Dr. Lappont:

"I am stronger than Pope Leo. Why should I not do what he did?"

It was explained to him that Leo when elected began by taking a fortnight's perfect rest and thereafter gradually trained himself to his new duties. Moreover, Leo's splendid constitution did not require exercise in the fresh air which an ordinary healthy man does.

REPORTED BETTER.

At noon Pope Pius was reported to be almost restored to his normal condition but was keeping his room, as he feels occasionally a slight palpitation of the heart.

The Pope ardently wished to receive today the Austrian Ambassador, who was to present his credentials, but he was persuaded to renounce his intention, not only in this case, but with regard to all the audiences which were fixed tomorrow.

STRAIN TOO MUCH.

ROME, Aug. 11.—11:15 a. m.—Pope Pius X had a fainting fit this morning while celebrating mass. His Holiness soon revived.

The Pope has been over-exerting himself to such an extent that his naturally strong constitution was unable to bear the strain put upon it by the coronation ceremonies. Such has been the effect upon his nerves that he has been unable to sleep for whole nights, while numerous receptions yesterday made matters worse. Last night His Holiness was very much agitated, still he insisted upon admitting this morning to hear his mass all Venetians who had journeyed to Rome purposely to attend the coronation. They numbered about 300 when the mass began in St. Pauline Chapel and the air was vitiated with the temperature at 80 degrees.

NEARLY FELL DOWN.

Pope Pius was seen to grow paler and paler, finally throwing out his hands as though seeking support. He would have fallen had not Mgr. Bresnan, his private chaplain, been quick to catch him. It is impossible to describe the confusion and alarm among the worshippers while the Pope lay motionless and unconscious with his eyes closed.

IMMEDIATE ASSISTANCE.

Fortunately among the Venetians present was Dr. Davenesio, who for nine years has been the Pope's attending physician at Venice, but had been called only once during that time to treat a sore throat.

Dr. Davenesio gave the Pontiff immediate assistance, while the messengers telephoned Dr. Lappont. The latter rushed to the Vatican but did not arrive until after the Pope had been restored to consciousness and taken to his own apartments.

GAVE HIM WATER.

The Pope had already given the communion to 360 people when he began to feel ill. Those about him soon perceived that he was not himself by his nervous-

ALL TRACE OF CONVICTS WORKS TO MAKE FAIR A SUCCESS, SEEMS TO BE LOST.

Sheriff Reese Gives Up the Chase and no Word is Received From Bosquit's Men.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11.—Sheriff David Reese has practically abandoned the hunt for the escaped convicts known to have been in this city last Friday, one of whom, Ray Fahey, a notorious highwayman, was shot at by Detective Max P. Fisher.

Fahey was with a smaller man, thought to be either Constable Fred Miller or Henry Davis, more likely the latter, at the time the shooting occurred.

It is certain the men made their escape from the railroad yards Friday night and the officers incline to the belief that they back-tracked toward Fair Oaks in the general direction from which they must have come.

Fahey is reported by a man named William Taylor to have left a freight train at Lincoln, Placer county, Saturday night. Taylor says he knows Fahey personally and could not have been mistaken in the man's identity.

Today Sheriff Reese returned nearly all the files and shotgun which have been used by him and his posse during the past few weeks, indicating that he feels it is useless to further prosecute an organized hunt for the escaped prisoners.

City Detective Max P. Fisher and local officers are keeping a sharp lookout for all outgoing trains to prevent the escape of either Fahey or Davis, should either of them be in hiding in this city waiting for a favorable opportunity to get away.

Reports from Placerville tell of several hold-ups near that city and the people there think the highwayman is one of the prison escapes. Last night a miner named James Martin was held up by a man who demanded the latter's dinner bill, which demand was complied with. Martin reported to Sheriff Bosquit, saying the man who held him up was about five feet seven inches in height. Frank Stanger, also, reports having seen the same man in about the same place. At the prison no reports from Sheriff Bosquit or Sheriff Norman had been received from the posse, trailers and bloodhounds which have been following the five convicts through the Corral Flat country, up to noon.

It is feared the convicts have passed out through Corral Gap into what is known as the Devil's Basin region, a rocky, heavily timbered section, where excellent shelter will be afforded the pursued convicts.

Convict Roberts was returned to Folsom prison today.

NO WORD COMES FROM PRISONERS.

PLACERVILLE, Cal., August 11.—No word has come from the pursuers of the convicts today and it is unlikely that news will be received here until the outlaws have been captured or killed, or the chase abandoned.

The convicts are in a most rugged country and it will require the greatest strategy on the part of the posses to avoid being slaughtered. Persons familiar with the country in which the convicts have taken refuge aver that the idea of the posses attempting to overtake the convicts in that section is preposterous for the reason that the little band of outlaws could pick off an army of men in that region without themselves being made the victims of bullets of the hunters, so admirable is the country adapted to the purposes of defense.

Although a watch is being kept for the man who held up James Martin, a miner near town last night, no arrest has been made. Sheriff Bosquit is positive that one of the convicts, probably Case, is in the vicinity and that he eventually will be captured. Case is addicted to the use of opium and will probably attempt to enter Placerville's Chinatown to obtain a supply of the drug. It is known that opium has been purchased here surreptitiously at least once since the convicts entered this section, and although no charges can be preferred against the purchaser, his movements are being watched by Bosquit, who thinks he may endeavor to obtain another supply in the near future for the purpose of supplying one of the convicts.

She is one of the most popular members of the refreshment booth, and will assist with others at that table in making their entertainment and dance, which takes place August 18 at Pythian Hall, a success.

FATHER BEATS DAUGHTER INSENSIBLE.

Sixteen-year-old Grace Woodside Suffering From Concussion of Brain for Trying to Defend Her Little Brother.

In an attempt to defend her little brother from parental punishment, sixteen-year-old Grace Woodside was brutally beaten by her father, A. E. Woodside, of 351 Union street last night, with the result that her injuries consist of concussion of the brain, partial paralysis of the tongue besides numerous cuts and bruises about the face and body. She is under the care of Dr. Reinhart, and is in a precarious condition. The father is in the City Prison charged with battery, and pending the result of his daughter's injuries he will not be released on bail. Because nine-year-old Arthur Woodsuffocated.

MASS OF BODIES.

Further on the firemen stumbled upon a terrible mass of bodies.

These were the passengers of the burned train.

They had leaped from the coaches when the fire broke out, and groping through the suffocating clouds of smoke, sought the exit at Les Charonnes station. But the tunnel makes a sharp turn near the scene of the disaster and at the angle, the entire mass of humanity apparently became tightly wedged. The panic which took place at this point within the dark subterranean passage must have been terrible.

The corpses from this death angle soon swelled the list until at 6:30 a. m. Prefect Lepine placed the number of victims at forty-five already recovered, while the steady file of firemen bringing up bodies continued.

SECOND-CLASS PASSENGERS.

M. Lepine summoned a large force of doctors and municipal officials, who superintended the moving of the bodies. The number of corpses brought up from the angle where the mass was wedged in was so large that four and eight bodies were placed in each ambulance.

Many of the victims had handkerchiefs stuffed in their mouths, they having evidently tried to keep out the asphyxiating smoke. The faces of the dead were red and congested. Some women held their children tightly in their arms. As the firemen brought out the bodies agonizing cries went up from women and children who recognized their dead husbands and fathers.

The clothing of the victims indicated that they were almost entirely second-class passengers.

ONE HUNDRED DEAD.

About 7 a. m., the bodies of ten women were brought out in a bunch. The bodies of two little girls and three infants were found with them, clinging to their mothers.

Many poor people claimed the bodies of their children and relatives and tried to take them home, but the police gently but firmly insisted on the bodies being taken to the morgue and barracks in order that the magnitude of the catastrophe might be determined. At the Hotel de Ville, the president of the Municipal Council announced that the city of Paris would bear the entire expense of the funerals of the victims.

By 8:30 a. m. the total of the bodies lying at the morgue had reached forty and the total at the barracks of the Municipal Guards forty-four, making eighty-four altogether.

At 9 o'clock the number of bodies was unofficially estimated at above 100.

CAUSE OF WRECK.

Several versions of the disaster, but the main ones are as follows:

The train which caused the accident came from Fort Dauphine at the entrance to the Bois de Boulogne in the western part of Paris. After circling the northern quarter of the city, where numbers of workmen were picked up, the train reached the neighborhood of the Cemetery of Pere La Chaise, where the electrical motor failed to act properly. The train then waited at the station of Les Charonnes until the arrival of a second train, which pushed the crippled train forward, making a total of sixteen coaches. After proceeding about 200 yards toward Menilmontant station, the damaged motor set fire to the engine of the first train.

The fire burned fiercely.

Simultaneously the electric lights on the train went out, leaving the passengers in darkness except for the light of the burning engine, far ahead. This impeded the progress of the trains toward Menilmontant. The terror-stricken passengers got out and tried to grope their way back. The powerful electrical current which continued to the rails, is believed to have stunned or killed many. A number of the passengers managed to reach Les Charonnes station but the main body of the passengers was overcome by the heat and smoke.

TERRIBLE PANIC.

A terrible panic occurred among those behind and the horror of the situation was increased by a third train crashing into the fiery mass and adding another crowd of panic-stricken passengers to those seeking an outlet. The cars continued to burn until twenty were consumed. The burning debris gave forth a fierce heat, which puffed out of the mouths of the stations of Les Charonnes and Menilmontant. The escape of most of the trainmen was due to their superior knowledge of the subterranean passage.

HEROIC INCIDENTS.

A number of heroic incidents occurred. Several soldiers, firemen and employees of the road nearly lost their lives in seeking to aid the victims.

CAUSED EXCITEMENT.

The tunnel catastrophe has caused great excitement throughout the city even the Humbert trial being forgotten in the widespread feeling of horror and grief. At noon, Premier Combes went to the scene of the disaster. M. Hurteaux, procurer of the republic, and Judge Joliet, of the Seine tribunal, have proceeded to the station of Les Charonnes to open a judicial investigation into the affair.

The chief station master at Les Charonnes, M. Didier, says he saw the flames running along the gear of the cars when the first train passed through the station, and called out to the engineer to stop, saying there was no time to reach the next station, but the engineer declared he had ample time, and proceeded. A few minutes later a large blue flame flashed through the tunnel, followed by a violent detonation. Looking into the mouth of the tunnel, M. Didier could see flashes from the burning cars.

DESPERATE STRUGGLE.

Premier Combes descended into the tunnel and made a personal inspection. He asked the Chief of Police for a report as to the cause of the disaster and a list of the victims and announced his intention of proposing at a council enormous proportions, obliging the police to form a solid cordon through which were admitted only those seeking to identify relatives among the victims. The failure of many men, women and children to return home during the night, gave many the first news of the catastrophe. Fathers and mothers came hurrying to the mouth of the tunnel to try to find the absent ones.

TERRIFIC HEAT.

At the second descent, the firemen found a great number of bodies massed near the ticket office of the station, where many had evidently been overcome while securing tickets.

They had been imprisoned by the columns of smoke and had sought to run back up the stone stairway leading to the street.

A struggle had ensued and some escaped, but the others had been trampled on.

One woman had fled within the ticket office, where her body was found.

The ticket seller herself succeeded in escaping.

At the station of Les Charonnes, the same scenes of death and despair had been enacted.

The accident occurred midway between the stations of Menilmontant and Les Charonnes, so that the work of salvage proceeded from both ends of the tunnel.

In addition to the blinding smoke the tunnel belched forth a terrific heat, as one of the trains was slowly burning within. The firemen succeeded in throwing several streams of water in the direction of the wreck, while some firemen and military engineers, at great hazard, pushed on inside the tunnel.

They brought out two bodies and soon afterwards three more. The latter were laborers who had almost succeeded in reaching the exit when they were overcome and

George C. Henley of Point Richmond Says He Fired in Defense of His Life.

POINT RICHMOND, Cal., Aug. 11.—Lafferty picked up a shotgun and Henley at once fired three shots at him from a 32-calibre revolver.

The first bullet struck a comb in Lafferty's pocket and glanced off, inflicting only a flesh wound.

The second shot passed through his neck between the jugular vein and the returning artery.

The third missed Lafferty altogether. He is in no immediate danger, though the surgeons say that serious complications may ensue.

After the shooting Henley summoned a physician and then surrendered himself to the officers, saying that he had fired at Lafferty in defense of his life.

The wife was the only witness of the affair.

The trouble between the men is said to have been caused by the adoption by Lafferty of a boy named Clarence Ludlin.

of ministers, measures for the relief of the poor families of the victims. The flag over the Hotel de Ville has been lowered to half mast as a sign of the city's mourning.

M. Gauthier, the magistrate for the district, says one of the main causes of the loss of life was that those escaping took the wrong exit, one passage leading out to the street, while the other was barred and it was used for admitting passengers. Many of the victims sought the barred exit and were found massed against the wall where they had slowly been suffocated.

The firemen have gathered a large collection of torn clothing, battered hats, twisted umbrellas and blood-stained handkerchiefs, showing how desperate was the underground struggle.

At the American consulate it was learned that there were no Americans among the victims. The prefect of police confirms this.

President Loubet has telegraphed to the president of the Municipal Council, saying he shares the profound grief in which the city has been plunged.

Attorney Marcus, who represented Schnarr, said that no protest had been filed against granting the request. He, therefore, wanted to know whom Mr. Cohen represented.

Mr. Cohen said he represented the residents in the neighborhood. He presented an affidavit by George McDonald to the effect that Schnarr's application was not a valid one because it was not signed by six out of the nearest ten residents.

The affidavit set forth that the ten nearest residents were E. S. Sedgely, R. E. Taylor, E. B. McCort, A. Meyer, George D. Plimco, S. A. Potter, R. L. Jump, C. Hane and H. C. Stillwell.

Of these, Mr. Cohen said that the names of R. E. Taylor and A. Meyer only appeared on the application. The matter was referred to County Surveyor Prather to report as to who are the ten nearest residents to the place.

A PROTEST.

A protest was made against the granting of a liquor license to Frank Lynch at Pittsville Park on the San Leandro road. It was represented by F. Joseph Spencer, who said he resided near the park. He produced a quarter card advertising a moonlight picnic in the park and said that such gatherings had been held there and were continued until an early hour in the morning, thus destroying the peace of the residents in that section.

Mr. Lynch appeared and said that he had not gotten out the card in question, that he did not intend to encourage entertainments of the kind. The card had been gotten out, he said, by a musician of this city who had rented the grounds from his (Lynch's) predecessor.

Supervisor Mitchell asked Lynch if he proposed to have moonlight picnics at his place.

Lynch said he did not intend to give such entertainments. He proposed to

A communication was received from the State Board of Agriculture asking the Supervisors to make an appropriation for an exhibit of the county at the State Fair to be held in Sacramento.

The Supervisors discussed the proposition in executive session and decided that the time was too short in which to make a respectable showing, and the application was accordingly denied. Adjourned for a week.

FAREWELL TO HIS BRIDE.

rounding his disappearance on August 6, when he deserted his bride of a day is thus solved.

Having but a short time to live and in difficulties over money matters was the cause of his suicide. In a letter addressed to his wife and found on his body he explains these facts.

The body was found by Robert S. Shapiro of the ship Osa which is in Oakland harbor. The remains were decomposed and showed that the deceased had probably taken his life just after deserting his bride.

Mrs. Williams resided with her sister, Mrs. Camm, at 1217 G Street, San Francisco. She is a rather striking blonde and was married Wednesday, July 23, in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Francisco, her maiden name being Miss Wilhelmia S. Forderer.

Besides the letter to his wife found on Williams' body, there was $7.15 in one of his pockets and also a razor, nickel watch, tooth brush and other articles of no special value. Sealed in an envelope was one of the cards announcing his marriage. This had the name of Mr. Dan Foster on the envelope, while the envelope containing the farewell letter to his wife was directed "Foster" to her, but the address was not readable owing to the action of the water. The letter is given above.

Among the papers of the drowned man was a bill from the Hotel Vendome, San Jose, showing the bill of Mrs. H. M. Williams for a bill of $8.00 for room and board for 10 days and wine, 25 cents. The bill was not paid and across the face in pencil was written, "Will mail."

In a short time the body of the Alameda man was taken to the morgue and after a few days' exposure a sailor cut after named B. H. Veeder claimed that Williams had called on him in July, asking for $500, but he told him that it would have to have an endorser and then Williams said that he would get his captain to sign the note.

In a short time he returned with Captain Lockett's name to the note, saying that his shipper had written it there. Captain Lockett now says that he did not endorse the note, but will stand good for the amount.

Ever since his disappearance Williams' bride visited the San Francisco water front every day in hope of finding some trace of her missing husband. She became a familiar figure with the shipkeepers along the front, but they say that she showed no trace of any man and appeared indifferent to her husband's fate.

Friends of Williams say he was not a drinking man.

Corporal Mehrmann has charge of the remains.

EVIDENCE IN THE HUMBERT CASE.

MADAME THERESE CREATES SEVERAL SCENES IN COURT.

PARIS, August 10.—The Humbert trial today drew another huge crowd to the Palais Du Justice.

Madame Therese Humbert continued to dominate the proceedings and created several scenes when the court attempted to examine the memory of the family. M. Jorin, the presiding judge, insisted on examining Frederick Humbert, her husband, but Mme. Humbert, rising, said: "I demand to be heard. I am a woman today and will explain where the millions are."

The spectators were greatly amused at this outburst. The judge ordered Mme. Humbert to be silent, but she again shouted:

"You are continually showing your prejudice."

Frederick Humbert testified lengthily regarding the affairs of the Bank Vendome, the insurance company which the Humberts started and in the crash of which thousands of poor people lost all their savings. He mentioned that the operations were conducted in good faith and claimed that public prejudice aroused against the Humbert family brought about the failure of the company.

Frederick Humbert said he had devoted most of his time to art and poetry, leaving the entire financial operations to his wife.

The court began the examination of the ninety witnesses called outside the family. The first was a man named M. Jorin. Therese's declaration that the Crawfords actually exist under another name is generally regarded as only another of her ruses to gain time.

ness and impatience, which showed itself when his attendant handed him his spectacles. He pushed them aside and another pair from a pocket. The doctor, after a few minutes when they saw him faint was met, and they rendered matters worse by crowding around him. His face, which was opened at the presence of mind and ordered the Swiss Guard to clear a space about the Pontiff. Smelling salts were brought hastily and had the desired effect. The Pope, when able to speak again, the Pope asked for a few drops of water, which were given him, and water was sprinkled on his face. His eyes so opened at the neck, as he seemed to be choking. He refused resolutely, however, to be carried to his apartments, saying that he was sufficiently strong to walk. The way thither was cleared and he proceeded slowly, surrounded by his anxious attendants, his head bent almost on his shoulders, his face pale and the flesh was scarcely distinguishable from his robes. The neck of his gown still remained open.

HE MUST DEAL OUT JUSTICE WITH A FIRM HAND.

LONDON, August 10.—Mr. Balfour said everything possible would be done to impress the Porte with the necessity of keeping its troops well in hand and every assistance would be given to the Porte in carrying out that object. He believed that the Porte was keenly alive to the necessity of repressing excesses committed by the Turkish troops.

Unfortunately, Europe had not the opportunity to bring pressure to bear on the rebel bands. The latter's avowed object was to make the condition of Macedonia so that there must be some intervention on the part of Russia or Austria or both.

The British Government, concluded Mr. Balfour, did not desire to see such a policy succeed.

Their policy was to aid Austria and Russia in introducing the elementary principles of sound government, which, for the present, constituted the best means of dealing with the deep-seated evil.

SPORTS

JEFF IS TRAINED TO THE HOUR.

BIG CHAMPION IS NOW READY FOR CORBETT—HIS PLANS.

Jim Jeffries is plugging away conscientiously at his training in Harbin Springs. Of course he is not so strenuous in his exercises as a while ago. He has now finished his hard training and is only doing light work. Delaney seems well pleased with the way his man has been developing. He has always had a lurking fear that the giant would overtrain, and is more than delighted Jeffries has not done so. Yesterday morning the "premier" took an eight mile road run to Middletown and back in good fast time. In the afternoon he went deer hunting on mule back.

Sunday, although the heat was almost unbearable from forest fires in the vicinity, Jeff skipped the rope 1100 times till the perspiration rolled on him and his gymnasium suit was wringing wet. He then punched the bag for fully three-quarters of an hour. At the end of the first fifteen minutes he demanded that the bag be fixed as he said it was too slow. His brother Jack, and Joe Kennedy then put in a new rubber interior and tightened up the rope. Still the champion thought it was not fast enough to suit him. Then Billy Delaney, who had been silently watching the whole proceeding, volunteered the information that perhaps the bag was not too slow, but Jeffries was too fast. His remark was evidently pretty near the truth, as was shown by the way Jim went at the leather sphere for the next half hour. Then the champion boxed four pretty swift rounds each with Jack Jeffries and Joe Kennedy. He treated them pretty roughly and both were glad when the sparring part of the day's program was over.

One of the spectators' acquaintances with the fact that Kennedy had undergone similar exercises with Corbett in the East asked him at the end of the mauling if the ex-champion had ever handled him so severely as Jeff had just done.

"Well, you can just bet I would never have showed south of Market street again if he had," was the rejoinder. Jeffries entered a little target practice Sunday after his dinner which he took on the porch of the hotel. He seemed to be feeling first rate and made his first definite statement regarding Friday's encounter.

"I will go right at him. He can hit when he is able and where he pleases. I won't care for that and will keep plugging right along," said Jeff, referring to Corbett. "When I fought Corbett before, it was the one fight where my wind was not at its best. Of course, it was all right after the first round or two, but I held in to take no chances."

He played at baseball until dark and then went to the theater with his pal, "Tuck."

Tomorrow morning Jeffries is expected to start for Oakland to stay until just before the fight. Thursday night he will probably box several rounds with Bob Fitzsimmons at the Reliance Club gymnasium.

CORBETT TAKING THINGS EASY

EX-CHAMPION DID STRENUOUS WORK YESTERDAY AND SHOWS UP WELL.

Corbett has let up somewhat on his vigorous training of the past two months, though he has by no means quit. Sunday he took a complete rest, and Monday started to work with light work. He does a few stunts on the machines and punching bag, boxes a little with Kenny or Berger and plays baseball for amusement. The latter he does not go at so furiously and recklessly as he has heretofore. Yesterday afternoon Joe Corbett and some other members of the Los Angeles baseball team went over to Alameda to engage in a little game with the ex-champion. Although Corbett played ball, he took no chances on hot grounds or wild throws, accepting only the easy ones. The big fighter said he did not care to run any risk of injuring his fingers when his battle with Jeffries was so close at hand.

Corbett practically did his last bit of hard training yesterday morning. He boxed with Kenny and Berger as if he were in a real fight. He would not trust his brother Tom with the stop-watch, but handed it over to John Morrissey of the Orpheum Theater, so as to get a full three minutes in every round. The ex-champion started in on Berger, who was only contemplating a little light sparring for exercise. But as soon as Jim got warmed up, Sam realized there was "something doing." The clever boxer fairly rained blows on his opponent so fast and heavy that Berger could do nothing against them. Then Sammy began to slink, realizing he was being badly whipped. Corbett, however, beat him at his own game. Tommy Ryan, who watched the bout most carefully, noting every jab and counter that Corbett made, jumped into the ring at the end of the fifth round to save Berger from injury, for the latter was almost completely used up.

Corbett, on the contrary, seemed as fresh as if he had done no work at all. Between the rounds he danced and side-stepped around the ring in a most lively fashion, while Berger just sat in his corner, panting for breath and rubbing the places where it hurt the most. When Jim found out that Berger could stand no more punishment, he called for Yank Kenny.

Yank was finished in about as short order as was Sam. He is built more like Jeffries, so the latter bout was more interesting on that account. Tommy Ryan showed Kenny a few points in the championship style to use against Corbett. He had that lack of speed which is Jeffries' weakness, and Corbett was able to come back at him every time before he could get together from the previous blow. Several times Ryan interfered to save Kenny and because he feared Corbett might injure his hands. The mill was stopped at the end of the seventh round, Kenny being "all in."

Corbett then went into the gymnasium to exercise on the punching bag and play with the leather dummy.

EXPERTS EXPRESS

SPORTING WRITERS FAVOR JEFFRIES AND OTHERS ARE DIVIDED.

A number of sporting men, fighters, sporting writers and others more or less situated so as to express an opinion as to the relative merits of the two heavyweights, have come forward with their opinions as to who will win Friday night's fight. As a rule, the sporting writers and prominent pugilists look for Jeffries to win, although quite a number think that the fight will go the limit and that Corbett will get the decision. One and all practically agree that if the fight goes until the twentieth round Corbett will be the winner.

Such actors and fight fans that have been appealed to for an opinion are almost, to a man, for Corbett and think he is a winner. The majority of them do not look, however, for Corbett to knock Jeffries out and base their opinion on Corbett's cleverness. They claim that the former champion is too quick for Jeffries and will win on points. Trainers and managers, all over the country, are about evenly divided as to their opinions as to who will win the fight.

Lou Houseman, one of the foremost writers on sports in the United States, is of the opinion that Jeffries will win, but will not express an opinion as to how long the fight will last. William G. Bierco, sporting editor of the Box on Police News, thinks that Jeffries will win in six rounds. Arthur T. Lumey, of the New York Illustrated News, thinks that Corbett lacks vitality and endurance and therefore names Jeffries to win in the fifteen rounds. Bert Matheson, a prominent newspaperman looks for Corbett to get the decision after twenty rounds. Tom Hunt thinks that Corbett will win in ten rounds, providing he conducts himself like he did against John L. Sullivan. John Pollock, sporting editor of the New York Evening World, names Jeffries to win in nine rounds.

Gus Ruhlin, Kid McCoy, Tom Sharkey and Jack Root are among the well-known pugilists that name Jeffries for the winner and think he will knock Corbett out in from ten to fifteen rounds. Abe Attell, Kid McFadden, Herrera, Sam McVey and Spirit Kelly are of the opinion that Corbett will win, but none of them expect him to knock the champion out.

Colonel Martin Brady, the well-known fight follower, thinks that Corbett will get the decision and John J. Gleason, the sports writer of the Olympic Club, coincides with this opinion. William Constable, the prominent sporting man of Detroit, thinks Jeff is too tough for Corbett and will win out in about the fifteen th round. "Biddy" Devereaux, manager of Herrera, expects Corbett to get the decision at the end of the fight, and Joe Macias, the well-known pugilistic manager, has expressed the same view. Sig Hart, the former manager of Jack O'Keefe, and Al Harford, manager for Joe Gang, pick Jeffries for a winner, but as he must knock Corbett out before the twentieth round in order to win.

BOTH MEN DOWN

MUCH INTEREST IS MANIFESTED IN NEIL-FORBES FIGHT.

On Thursday night Frankie Neil and Harry Forbes will contest for the bantam championship of the world in Mechanics' Pavilion, San Francisco. The men are to weigh in at 116 pounds on the day of their contest. Both are down to weight and in perfect condition. Neil has been working for the past month at Croll's under the watchful eye of Jim Corbett. He has trained faithfully and will put up a stout resistance.

This will be his second meeting with Forbes. When they fought last year in Oakland under the auspices of the Reliance Club, Forbes won in the seventh round. Neil always claimed he was fouled. They were matched again but Forbes was unable to appear and his brother, Clarence, went in against Neil and was knocked out. Harry will strive to redeem the family name Thursday night.

Eddie Graney will referee the battle. The preliminary contest has been gratifyingly large. It was thought the little fellows would be over-shadowed by the heavyweights who fight the following night, but the large sporting contingent now in the city are buying choice seats to see the battle. Already a big bunch has been sold and the Yosemite Club is making preparations to seat a heavy attendance.

George Harling, the official timekeeper, visited Forbes this afternoon and weighed him. He reports that Forbes was under 116 pounds and in perfect condition. Forbes will be heavily backed by his manager, John Hertz. The betting is 10 to 8 with Neil on the short end. Frankie has many backers and he is looked upon as a winner.

The San Francisco and Oakland baseball teams will meet for a week's series this week, but owing to the fact that the San Francisco team could not arrive from the North in time, there was no game on this side of the bay this afternoon. The first game of the series will take place tomorrow afternoon at Recreation Park in San Francisco, and will continue there the balance of the week with the usual Sunday morning game on this side of the bay.

The Los Angeles ball team left this morning for Sacramento where they will engage in a series with the Senators, after which they will return home for six weeks. While in Sacramento, Captain Frantz, Dillon of the Los Angeles aggregation, will meet a young woman from Illinois, who has traveled across the country to become his bride. It is not generally known that Dillon is only 29 years of age in spite of his gray hair and the lines which mark his face.

Seattle and Portland will fight out a week's series between them and it promises to be an interesting struggle, for both teams have been reorganized and are playing as good a game as any team in the league. Seattle split even with San Francisco on last week's series and Portland took seven out of eight from Sacramento, so that on form it would seem that Portland should take the series.

The chances are very good for seeing "Brick" Devereaux back on third base this week. His hand has healed very nicely and he thinks he is able to break into the game again. He will take his old place on third and Schwartz will move over to second base. This means that Baxter will ornament the bench for a while. Lohman had intended to play the "Moose" on first, but as Messersly has picked up in batting and is such a strong fielder, the player-manager has decided to leave him where he is. With Messersly, Schwartz, Francke and Devereaux or an infield, the Recruits can be expected to show something of last year's form and play better ball than they have at any time this season.

Pete Lohman has instructed Willie O'Hara to move to this side of the bay if he wishes to hold his job. O'Hara has not been batting as well as usual and Pete thinks that city life does not agree with the fielder.

She attempted to throw herself out of a window and was rescued by an upper story window and the husband then concluded it was time for him to take action in the matter and have her confined where she could do herself no harm.

MISS BINGHAM PRESENTS THE CLIMBERS TO LARGE AUDIENCE.

Miss Amelia Bingham opened a three nights' engagement at the Macdonough Theatre last evening presenting "The Climbers" by Clyde Fitch as the opening attraction. Miss Bingham won much of her renown in "The Climbers" and she is supported by a strong company.

A full house greeted Miss Bingham last evening and she was given liberal applause at every appearance. The play itself is a comedy satire on society life. Everyone is reaching up for something and makes the name, "The Climbers," quite appropriate.

Miss Bingham has a hard role to play, but sustains the part with rare ability, which stamps her as one of the most finished actresses of the age. The leading man, Wilton Lackaye, who became famous as "Svengali" in "Trilby," is well-known to all theatre goers and gave a clever portrayal of a difficult character. The other members of the company all gave good interpretations of their roles.

Tonight the bill will be "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson" and tomorrow evening "A Modern Magdalen" will be played. Among those at the theatre last night were: C. O. G. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Max Taft, Miss Taft, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Taft, Miss Marguerite Clemmons of St. Paul, E. Main, Will Main, Ray Baker, Mr. and Mrs. George De Golia, Miss De Golia, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Miss Gertrude Coffin, aged 16 years, who was arrested a few days ago on the complaint of her mother, Mrs. Annie Coffin, is beginning to be released from the City Prison. The mother alleges that the girl became infatuated with an actor known only as "Jim" and she feared her daughter might run away to Salt Lake City to meet him. She states that she begged and pleaded with her daughter to get the man out of her mind, all to no avail, so she said she thought she would see what the prison could do for her. The girl is very repentant and says she has no desire to go away and if given her freedom she will do as her mother wishes.

J. E. Holmes Jr., one of the pioneers of Oakland and for a number of years connected with the TRIBUNE in the linotype department, passed away shortly after 6 o'clock this morning at his residence, 967 Castro street, after a brief illness.

His illness began with a heavy cold and complications arose which culminated in his death. The immediate cause of death is thought to be pneumonia, but an autopsy will be held this afternoon to definitely determine the cause.

The deceased was 43 years of age and had been a resident of Oakland for the past 35 years. He leaves a widow and four grown children, George, Clifford and Irene Holmes and Mrs. Canale Gibbs. Mr. Holmes was very well known in this city and especially in fraternal circles. At the time of his death he was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Woodmen of the World, Eagles, Odd Fellows and the Typographical Union.

The funeral services over the remains will be conducted by the Woodmen of the World, and will take place from their hall at 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

EFFECTIVE PRISON MANAGEMENT.

The successful emulacra of convicts at Folsom Prison has brought out a deal of criticism of the penal administration in California—and no a few suggestions as to how the prisons should be managed. Some of the criticisms exhibit a painful lack of knowledge of actual conditions at the prisons, while many of the suggestions are impractical deductions drawn from a partial reading of certain theories on crime, its causes and cure, or from imperfect knowledge of the laws relating to penal administration. The public has been favored with an interesting variety as to what should be done to place affairs at the Folsom prison in a satisfactory state. The doctors do not agree. Among the causes given for the present trouble are:

Warden Wilkinson.
Politics.
The absence of a wall around the prison.
The straitjacket.
Abolition of the straitjacket.
Cruelty to the convicts.
Indulgence to the convicts.

A man can take his choice without paying a cent. It is clear, however, that in making a choice a majority of the other alleged causes must be cast aside. A wall would not have prevented a break at Folsom. A wall did not prevent a similar break at San Quentin when Lieutenant Governor Chellis was Warden.

A good or bad administration of a prison depends in a superlative degree upon the Warden—not upon his intentions, but his character. Several excellent men have made very poor Wardens. Put a brave, cool, firm man, possessed of reasonable experience and intelligence and a keen insight into human nature in control of a prison; let such a man be fair and upright, and then allow him the free exercise of the authority with which he is constituted and the statutes invest him, and the problem of successful prison management will be solved so far as it admits of solution under the system existing in this State. There are thousands of excellent business men, honest, kindly and well-intentioned who are utterly unfit to have the management of a prison. They are misfits. They are too credulous or too suspicious, and are frequently both, paradoxical as it may seem. Warden Wilkinson is an example of a good business man, well intentioned at bottom, trusting too much on one hand and trusting too little on the other. He suspected the loyalty of his subordinates and placed too much faith in the loyalty of convicts to whom he had been over-indulgent.

The rule of a prison must be strict and firm and equally compelling upon all charged with its administration—not a variable thing subject to a whim or personal favor. The touchstone of rules of this character is prompt and respectful obedience to constituted authority. Convicts should render obedience to all officers and all officers should render obedience to their superiors.

If a Warden keeps unfit men under him and performs their duties himself rather than trust them to the performance, he advertises the fact to convicts as well as freemen that he has not the moral courage to stand up for the authority conferred on his office by the Constitution and because of that personally performs the duties of an unfit subordinate he is too weak to dismiss. Thus he weakens his authority among both guards and prisoners.

A Warden who breaks the fundamental rules governing the prison at will to show personal kindness to individual convicts, thereby sets a bad example to his subordinates and becomes guilty of favoritism and partiality, besides bringing the prison regulations into contempt.

A Warden who permits the female members of his family to interfere with prison discipline and the assignment of official duties creates confusion, intrigue and jealousy.

In many respects prison management as provided for by the laws of this State is simple. It rests upon a few fundamental principles.

Have strict rules and enforce them firmly and impartially.

Let the discipline for both guards and prisoners be strict but just and fair to all alike; allow no shirking and grant no favors that compel inflicting a corresponding hardship on somebody else. Above all things, punishment is meted out for infractions of the rules should be strictly proportionate to the offense and the general conduct of the prisoner. When a convict learns that he will receive a trifling punishment for insulting or even assaulting one subordinate while a similar offense directed toward another subordinate is visited by exceedingly severe punishment, he is made aware of the fact that the power which does this is unfair, mean and cowardly. When the convict learns that one prisoner can do with impunity things that would be severely punished by another, he imbibes a justifiable contempt for the kind of justice he encounters. When convicts become aware that some officers are jobbing other officers, and even have convicts aiding in such intrigues, they realize that the prison authority is divided against itself, and that part of it, at least, is unworthy of respect.

It is well to inquire if such practices as those described have crept into vogue at Folsom. There have been numerous rumors to that effect.

Running away from a fool officer with a gun is not prima facie evidence of insanity.

THE SCHOOL-BOOK CINCH.

With the re-opening of the schools there is a recurrence of the twinges to the pocket nerve of the parents of school children. There are more books to purchase. School books are especially expensive for pupils in the High School. The cost of many of them is wholly out of proportion to their actual value and in many cases the books that scholars are required to purchase are selections from standard authors with an accompanying sketch by some college professor. You pay one price for the selection itself and two additional prices for the bit of essay of the professor. It is an imposition—an expensive imposition.

The expense of buying books for a course in the public schools is steadily increasing. It is becoming a heavy tax on families of moderate means with several children to educate.

The total cost of the books required for a full course in the High School is something appalling. Every year the tax is increased a bit. At the opening of each half term there are more books to buy. These constantly recurring demands give an idea that the schools are maintained more for the benefit of bookshelves than for the education of the people. There are all sorts of devices which seem especially designed to compel parents to buy books.

A reform in this direction is necessary. Our system of free education is becoming too expensive. The tuition is free but the incidental costs are piling up to an unconscionable degree. The High Schools should not be made a lemon for a coterie of literary hacks at the State University to squeeze, nor should the adoption of text books be made with a view to further the interests of publishers and adapters. Parents have some rights. But when are they going to be respected?

THE SIDEWALK WHEELING ABUSE

Experience has proved how vain it is to appeal to a large class of bicycle riders in this city to respect the ordinance and the rights of pedestrians when wheeling on the sidewalk. They exhibit an equal contempt for the law and for persons on foot. Probably seventy-five per cent of the riders obey the law as a rule, but the other twenty-five per cent have no regard for decency and still less respect for the rights of others. Some of them are not satisfied with violating the ordinance and taking the right of way from the pedestrian, but they indulge in blackguardly pranks for the purpose of startling and annoying people. Frequently women are the victims of this form of pleasantry. Female riders are among the worst offenders. Well-dressed women run down pedestrians as a matter of course, and even take as insulting a suggestion that they ought to turn out. Very frequently old persons and children are knocked down, but such incidents are seldom reported at the police station, because the persons guilty of the outrages are unknown to their victims and speed away on their wheels to escape detection.

Such things are only possible in Oakland. In no other large city, of this State, at least, is bicycle riding on the sidewalks permitted. The privilege is only conditional here, but the conditions are wantonly, recklessly and habitually violated. This abuse is aggravated by the fact that the sidewalks throughout the residence portions of the city consists of four and five-foot paved strips, only wide enough for three or four persons to walk abreast. Wheelmen scorch and coast two and three abreast on these narrow footways. They turn corners like the wind. In couples they will dart on each side past pedestrians walking in the center. The swerve of a wheel or a false step by the pedestrian would cause a collision. They speed furiously through bands of small children playing on the sidewalks.

There is another side to the sidewalk riding business that renders it equally objectionable. If the rider obeys the ordinance he or she must turn out on meeting or passing a pedestrian. If the unpaved strips on each side of the sidewalk are grassed, as is the case in many parts of the city, the grass is ruined. Many property owners have ceased all attempts to keep up their sidewalk lawns for this reason. They will not pay the heavy expense of cultivating and watering lawns only to have them ruined by bicycle riders. Thus the streets are being robbed of their most attractive feature to accommodate bicycle riders, many of whom abuse the privilege in a most outrageous manner.

How long is this condition to be borne?

AN ODISSEY COMPARISON.

It is idle to compare the speediness of English justice with the delays of our own system. In England no appeals are allowed in criminal cases. In this country the right of appeal is open to every man. This right is naturally abused, and the abuse is encouraged by appellate courts reversing judgments on trifling grounds. In California every criminal sentenced to be hanged is allowed sixty days grace between the day of sentence and the day of execution. In England the criminal is only allowed three Sundays of grace. Thus it is possible to hang a man sixteen days after sentence. Judges there have the power to dissect and criticize the evidence and even to direct the jury to bring in a verdict of guilty or acquittal. In this country a judge cannot sum up the evidence, save in the Federal courts, and he can direct the jury to acquit, but cannot give an instruction to convict. The continuances so readily obtainable in American courts cannot be had in English courts. In many other ways our criminal jurisprudence provides for delays and the obstruction of adjudication of criminal charges. The question is, has the cause of justice been sacrificed in the effort to guard against injustice?

This suggestion from the Sacramento Union is to be fully commended: "The families of the men who lost their lives in the man-hunt now going on in El Dorado county should be provided for by the State—if they are in any need. The Legislature of California do many worse things than to make such a provision."

But while providing for the families of the slain multitudes, provision should be made for the family of Guard Cotter. He fell at his post doing his duty. He had served the State long and faithfully, and met his end in that service like a man. His salary was but $50 a month, and board. He had been a guard at the prison for over seven years, and had drawn for that long term of service a total of less than $4,500. A violent death for which others in authority are morally responsible terminated his engagement. Surely the State should make some acknowledgment of this in the only practical way that acknowledgment can be made.

It is now stated that the poor fellow killed near Woodland for running away from officers who supposed he was an escaped convict, was in reality an escape from the insane asylum. This appears to be mere supposition. The man acted foolishly, but he may have run away under the impression that the officers were escaped convicts. At any rate he was killed in a most unjustifiable manner. His taking off is another illustration of how ignorant the average rural officer is of his powers under the law. In a sense the wanton murder of this stranger is chargeable to the miscarriage of administration at Folsom, for he would never have been killed but for the escape of a band of desperate convicts headed by Theron and Gordon. Nevertheless, the criminal blunder cannot be excused by blaming the officers of Folsom prison. It is time the fact were suitably impressed that running away from a rural constable is not a capital offense. How long can the fool officer with a gun continue to claim victims with impunity?

Sheriff Bosquit seems to have succeeded in chasing the convicts out of El Dorado county. His constituents who found their presence a source of profit and thrills of pleasing excitement will probably not regard this as a consummation devoutly to be wished.

Bismarck's Temper.
A bit of inside history, concerning Bismarck appears in Harper's Magazine for August, written by Henri de Blowitz, the late world-famous correspondent of the London Times. Mr. de Blowitz has told the real facts regarding Bismarck's wrath when he found that his resignation was actually accepted by the young Emperor William. The feelings of Princess Bismarck were also so irritated that when a portrait of the Kaiser arrived at his country house he threw it into the fire. "Let it be taken to Friedrichshagen and placed in the stable," Mr. de Blowitz recounts how he came into possession of these and other notable facts relative to the Iron Chancellor, and how a journalist of poster frequency finds himself between the upper and nether millstone in diplomatic affairs.

LLOYD CUTS OUT A SON.

WILL OF THE LATE CAPITALIST IS FILED FOR PROBATE.

The will of Charles R. Lloyd, the capitalist, who died in Yokohama, Japan, on August 6, was filed for probate yesterday by a representative of the law firm of Goodfellow & Ellis of San Francisco. A petition by Dr. Thomas Addison and Arthur W. Goodfellow, who are named as trustees under the terms of the will, was filed with the will.

Mr. Lloyd had accumulated a fortune in gas and electric lighting corporations. About six months before his death he had quarreled with his relatives. On January 28, while he was at San Bernardino, his nephew, William Bonnell, fired several shots at his uncle, some of them taking effect. He was living at the time with his niece, Nestie and Margaret Bonnell. Suffering from the effects of the pistol wounds, he was ordered by his physicians to take an ocean trip to the Orient in the hope of regaining his health. Before leaving, however, he made his will on June 10 of this year.

It was witnessed by Harriet E. Lauer of 324 Pine street and John S. Wells of 2418 Pierce street, San Francisco. Mr. Lloyd of regarding his health, he passed away. In his will deceased makes no mention of his relatives or nephews. The name of his son, Frederick W. Lloyd, was twice mentioned in the will. Once in the list of his children and again in a brief paragraph, which disinherits him. Fred Lloyd is a resident of San Bernardino.

The other children are: Charles R. Lloyd, living at Fortess Monroe, Va.; Mabel F. Lloyd, at London, England; Ethel M. Lloyd, another daughter, 15 years old, lives at Berkeley. William Rees Lloyd, a brother, is also in England.

The will declares that Lloyd leaves no other children than those above mentioned, but provides if an other child is established as his, it shall receive 35 of his estate.

By the terms of the will Matilda, Butter of Sunol and Lote H. Wilkinson of Los Angeles are bequeathed $500 each; Elizabeth M. Nix, wife of Samuel Nix of Oakland is given $5,000, and her mother $1,000. The residue of the estate is placed in the hands and under the control of Thomas Addison and Arthur W. Goodfellow, as trustees for the term of ten years after Lloyd's death. During this period the trustees are directed to pay to the widow, Mary Lloyd, one-third of the income of the estate, and to Charles R. Lloyd, Mabel F. and Ethel M. Lloyd, the three children designated as heirs, the thirds of the income, in equal portions. In the event of the deaths of the widow and three children within the ten years, without issue, then the estate is to revert to William Rees Lloyd of England.

The deceased was largely interested in the Sacramento Gas and Electric Company and was president of the San Bernardino Electric Lighting Company. The petitioners state that the exact value of the estate is unknown to them, but it is understood that Lloyd left property to the value of $500,000 or more.

The committee in charge will be Hon. A. H. Elliot, general superintendent; W. H. Gorrell, Dr. Pauline Nussbaumer and Dr. Vina Redington, representing the Starr King Fraternity; Mesdames Courtson, Bemelson and Elson, representing the Woman's Alliance; H. R. Petros, Jesse Dier and Emil Frisch, representing the Unity Club; Miss Willard, Miss Carrie Merrill and Miss Winifred Warner, representing the Sunday school; Misses Janet Cuvellier, Anna Wilson and Elizabeth Mills representing the Lend-a-Hand Club.

There will be no attempt to gather a miscellaneous crowd, but rather spend a social day under the pleasant and refined surroundings.

A large committee will meet on Friday evening to arrange for games, races, dancing, etc.

The number of tickets will be limited and those who wish them may secure them at once from S. H. Jackson, at the church or at any of Bowman's drug stores.

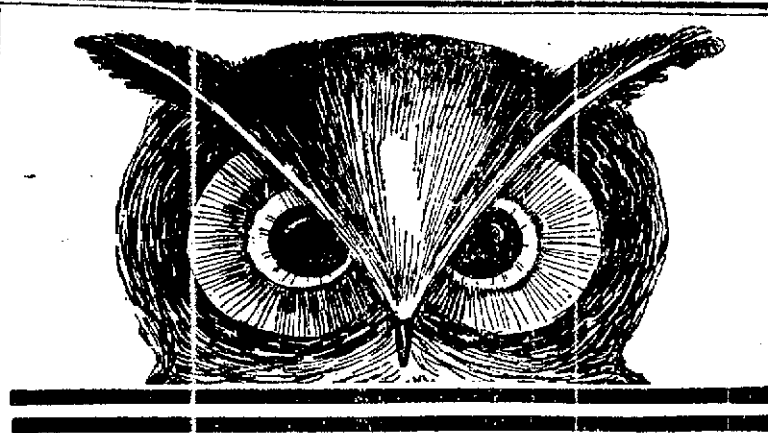

FRESNO, August 11.—The City Board of Health has taken up the investigation of the question whether the process employed in the large fruit canning establishments is injurious to health. Dr. Aiken, the city health officer, has reported the use of caustic soda solution in one of the largest canneries. A quantitative analysis of the samples of canned fruit solution was ordered and upon the report the board will take action. The commercial advantage reported in connection with the use of caustic soda solution is in quickly peeling the fruit, saving wages of manual labor. Complaint was also made that girls working in this cannery department are injuriously affected from colic. After the soda solution, the fruit is carried under revolving brushes that remove the peeling, subsequently being passed through two other solutions, the composition of which was not given but whose components may not be any more reassuring.

ARGUMENTS ON CONSTITUTIONALITY OF LAW FOR INTERLOCUTORY DECREES.

On Friday of this week Judge Ogden is to hear arguments in the form of briefs with regard to the constitutionality of the law providing for interlocutory decrees in divorce cases. The briefs are to be submitted in the suit of Albert R. Palmer against Emily G. Palmer. These two were separated about two years ago. They formerly resided in Fruitvale. Later Palmer sued for divorce on the ground of habitual intemperance and cruelty, alleging that his wife had often remained away from their home for several days and nights in succession. On one occasion he states his wife remained away all night and came home in the morning with both eyes blacked, claiming that she had been held up by footpads and robbed. They separated and Palmer hired a Japanese woman to do his cooking and take care of his little son.

Mrs. Palmer was denied alimony about three months ago, but was given permission to return to the home she had left. Palmer stated yesterday that he told his wife she could live with him at Fruitvale, but as he insisted that she should cook her own meals, she did not accept the offer.

Mrs. Palmer was represented in court by her father, J. E. Russell, who testified that he had not actively practiced law for many years. As he did not offer any testimony in his daughter's case, Judge Ogden at once decided in favor of Palmer.

REWARD OF $12,000 HAD BEEN OFFERED FOR THEM DEAD OR ALIVE.

GUTHRIE, O. T., August 11.—Deputy Marshals Bennett, Willets and Jacobson arrived here today from Pawhuska, Osage Nation, with the bodies of two members of the Martin gang of outlaws, killed in the fight on Saturday. The dead men have been identified as Will and Sam Martin. Rewards aggregating $12,000 had been offered for the men, dead or alive. Deputy Marshal Haines, who was wounded in the fight, is in a critical condition today.

Upon the arrival of the deputies today the first details of the fight were learned. The fight took place at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, eight miles south of Pawhuska, where the outlaws were located, fortified behind a knoll in a deep ravine.

As the officers neared their camp the outlaws opened fire, which was returned, and a steady exchange followed. Will Martin was shot in the mouth and died instantly. Sam Martin was shot through the right side and fell while running away. Clarence Simmons escaped. The officers recovered about 1000 rounds of ammunition and several rifles.

SPARMAN CASE IS ON TRIAL.
The case of the people against Art Sparman, charged with having assaulted C. H. Brennan, an Examiner reporter, with a deadly weapon, was begun before Judge Ellisworth and a jury this morning.

Brennan went to the Sparman home to interview the family and was attacked by the younger son and severely beaten. Sparman also threw large stones at Brennan, which would have caused serious injury had any of them struck him. The morning was spent in an endeavor to get a jury.

ARRESTED FOR MAKING THREATS.
Notice was received this morning from Justice of the Peace Taylor of Livermore stating that James Dunn, a shoemaker, had been arrested on the complaint of Patrick Morrison, a tinsmith, who accuses Dunn of having made threats against his life.

Dunn, a couple of years ago, got into trouble with Joe Dargatz, a seaman, who attempted to force him out of a house he had rented to him by turning a hose into the place and flooding it. Dunn had him arrested on charges of malicious mischief and the case went to two trials without a verdict having been reached and was finally abandoned.

PRINTERS MAKE CHANGES.

MONTHLY ASSESSMENT OF FIVE CENTS PER CAPITA IS ADOPTED.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—When the delegates to the International Typographical Union met today the report of the committee on laws was presented. Among the changes recommended was a suggestion to make permanent the monthly assessment of five cents per capita for a defense fund, as provided by the Los Angeles convention. The suggestion aroused considerable debate, but ultimately was adopted.

There was considerable discussion of a proposition to permit local unions to fix the time allowed apprentices to learn the use of type-setting machines at three months. A substitute providing that no apprentice should be a member of the union shall be permitted to learn the use of machines in union offices was lost.

A resolution from the time for leaving the machine six months was also voted down. The report of the committee on this proposition was adopted.

GRANTS IN JUNCTION AGAINST RAILROAD.

OMAHA, Neb., August 11.—Judge Munger, in the Federal Court today, handed down a decision granting the Chicago Great Western Railway a mandatory injunction against the Union Pacific Railroad, in which the latter is ordered to grant the Great Western the use of the Missouri river bridge and its terminal in Omaha and 8 1/4 miles. Further, the court holds that the right to use this bridge belongs to the Great Western under the facts of Congress making the bridge an open one for all railroads upon the payment of reasonable compensation and the subsidy granted.

EUCALYPTUS ROOTS CAUSE TROUBLE WITH TRUSTEES

Board Threatens the Arrest of State Officials Unless Nuisance is at Once Stopped.

BERKELEY, August 11.—Governor Pardee may soon be haled before a Berkeley court of justice if the roots on the eucalyptus trees on the grounds of the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institute insist on growing into and blocking the public sewers of the college town.

The Trustees will begin first by arresting the Board of Directors of the Institute to give them a chance to explain in a court of law why they allowed the Institute to violate a town ordinance by thrusting their roots into a sewer at the upper end of Dwight way and thereby doing damage to the extent of $600.

The Jeopardizing of the Liberty of Governor Pardee was brought about by the refusal of Superintendent Wilson of the Deaf and Dumb Institute to pay the damage done to the sewer by the roots. The Trustees held that the roots should have been cut down. A woman in North Berkeley had been compelled to conform to the law and Trustees State saw no reason why the State Institute should not be held accountable. Superintendent of Streets Turner was accordingly instructed to swear out warrants against the directors charging them with violating a town ordinance. The Trustees say that they will arrest the Governor if such a measure becomes necessary.

At last night's meeting the Auditor reported the condition of the various funds as follows: General, $2,474.29; street, $1,732.55; sewer bond, $1,264.28; electric light, $961.97; school bond, $1,430.10; school bond, 1900, $1,825.84; fire alarm, $20.39.

The report of Charles T. Korns shows the collections from licensees amounted to $3,157. The greater portion of this was collected from twenty-one saloons doing business in Berkeley. The next greatest revenue was derived from the new wagon license tax on carriages, $650 was collected from sixty-eight expressmen.

The Trustees ordered the payment of the following claims: General Fund—J. T. Vinther, $55.00; Lorin Fire Company, $15.00; S. Taylor, $1.00; A. Peterson & Son, $30.54; J. M. McNulty, $15.00; E. Hungry Freddie.
Freddie, aged 4, was visiting his grandparents, who always asked a blessing at the table. One day when the bell rang for dinner, Freddie came running in from his play, all out of breath, climbed into his high chair, and exclaimed: "Hurry up, grandpa, and read our plate! It's awful hungry!"—Lippincott's.

FORESTRY SCHOOL ENDS SESSION.

FIRST EXPERIMENT IS PRO- NOUNCED TO BE AN UN- QUALIFIED SUCCESS.

BERKELEY, August 11.—The series of summer lectures in forestry given at Idyllwild on the San Jacinto mountain by the University of California closed yesterday.

According to reports received at Berkeley the experiment was an unqualified success and many availed themselves of the opportunity of studying scientific forestry.

The main topic of the school was the necessity in California where irrigation is so necessary, of preserving the present mountain forests and of afforestation of the slopes and districts now bare.

The work was in charge of Dr. Willis L. Jepson of the Department of Botany and Professor Arnold V. Steubner of the Department of Agriculture.

It was expected that Mr. Gifford Pinchot, Forester of the United States Bureau of Forestry, who is in charge of the entire forestry work of the United States, would be present, but press of business prevented him from attending at the last moment.

The subjects taken up in lectures were: "The Life History of a Tree," "Classification of Forest Trees," "Forests of California," "The Practice of Forestry," "Silviculture," "Afforestation and Reforestation."

Dr. Jepson and Professor Steubner are expected to arrive in Berkeley either this evening or tomorrow.

500,000 NEGROES COME NORTH.

NEW YORK, August 11.—Through an organized movement by the Rev. J. H. Henry Ducker, of Cambridge, Mass., 500,000 negroes will have emigrated from the South to points between this city, Boston and Providence within three years, says a special dispatch from Troy, N. Y. The work of arranging for the migration has been carried out secretly by the North and Western Immigration Society, of which Mr. Ducker is president. The money is said to have been subscribed by wealthy men and women who believe that this scheme is the safe and sure solution of the negro problem.

IMPURE MILK THE CAUSE OF SICKNESS.

Trustees Take Steps to Prevent Epidemic Similar to That of Stanford.

BERKELEY, August 11.—The recent investigations made by Health Officer Frank Howard Payne of Berkeley reveal a startling and dangerous state of affairs in regard to the milk supply that is being furnished the people of the college town.

For the last two weeks he has been visiting and inspecting dairies and he has found that an alarmingly large number of dairies are furnishing a very poor quality of milk.

Dr. Payne will not state just how many dairies are furnishing adulterated milk, but makes the general assertion that the number is over a dozen. In some places he has found that the milk contains as high as fifty per cent of adulterant.

The condition of the dairies has become so notorious that Dr. Payne made the result of his investigation the subject of a report to the Town Trustees last night, in which he recommends the employment of a veterinarian and a chemist to go over the dairies with him during the next few weeks.

The Board expressed its entire willingness to co-operate with Dr. Payne in his campaign against the unscrupulous dealers. One of the Trustees, in speaking of the condition of affairs, cited the case of a child that was critically ill from typhoid fever that was caused by impure milk.

Numerous cases of sickness have been reported to the Health Officer and are now being carefully investigated. Many of them are attributed to the poor quality of the milk.

In laying the matter before the Trustees, Dr. Payne said:

"In many cases I have found the quality of the milk very bad. I have given all the dairymen warning, and if I find on my second investigation that no improvement has been made I shall cause their arrest. Even where I found the milk up to the standard the sanitary conditions surrounding the dairies were such that should result in any time. With the help of a bacteriologist and a veterinarian, I shall be able to make a pretty thorough investigation during the next two weeks."

HAYWARDS, SAN LEANDRO, EMERYVILLE, FRUITVALE, GOLDEN GATE

MOST PROFITABLE CHICKEN THIEVES IN YEARS.

FRUIT GROWERS OF HAYWARDS MUCH PLEASSED OVER SHOWING.

HAYWARDS, August 11.—The apricot season that has just passed has proved one of the most profitable for many years. The crop was very large and prices were good, ranging from $2.50 to $3.00 per ton. Hunt Brothers' cannery had a record-breaking run, eclipsing every other plant in the State in the rapidly with which the apricots were put up.

Kimball & Russell, the largest driers of the vicinity, have about finished apricot drying for this year. A large share of the employees were dismissed Saturday night and the rest will be released this week. The firm did not dry as many apricots this summer as usual, as the fruit is worth more fresh than dried.

Both the pear and prune crops are rather light this year, so very little will be dried. The firm may decide not to run at all on either of these fruits.

Haywards managed to win a game of baseball yesterday, beating the Joaquins of Oakland by a score of 23 to 5. The first three innings were very close and showed good fielding on the part of both teams, the score standing one to nothing in favor of the locals. Then Haywards began to hit Oakland's pitchers and had the game their own way. The Joaquins got 7 hits off Rose. The batteries for the J. H. Woods were Frank Rose and Joe Silva.

Next Sunday the Union Iron Works will meet the J. H. Woods at Haywards Athletic Park.

MILES DENIES RUMOR.

CHICAGO, August 11.—The Tribune today prints an interview with General Nelson A. Miles, who was asked as to the manner of his retirement from the command of the army and who is quoted as having said:

"The matter is closed for the present. Those who read the brief order and who have been cognizant of events of the last few years will understand the situation. I believe that anyone can run and read and understand."

The General denied any ambition to become commander of the G. A. R. Army since 1868 and have never failed to attend the encampments if possible. I expect to derive particular pleasure from this trip, because I shall have with me five friends who were members of my staff in the civil war. It will be the first time we have all been travelling together since we were at Appomattox Courthouse at the close of the war. The party will consist of Colonel Nathan Church of Haver, Mich.; General John S. McEwen of Albany, N. Y.; Major Alexander Sweeney of Steubenville, Ohio; Major John D. Black of Valley City, N. D.; General George W. Baird, U. S. A. of Connecticut; and Colonel H. E. Adams of New York, a personal friend of mine."

NO ROOM FOR THEM.

About a dozen young ladies, graduates of the Fruitvale grammar school of the class of June, 1903, went to Oakland yesterday to enter the high school. They were refused admittance, however, as there was no room for them. The Union high school at Haywards is too far away for Fruitvale students to attend, so the residents of this vicinity are talking of erecting a high school here.

REAL ESTATE ON SUBWAY IS NOW FINISHED.

MANY DEALS NOW PENDING AT SAN LEANDRO—MANY INQUIRIES.

SAN LEANDRO, August 11.—Real estate in this vicinity is enjoying almost a boom just at present. Outdoors view the town every day looking up desirable properties and the dealers report numbers of sales. The valley is gaining the reputation of being one of the most fertile in the county. There is also a number of recent deals in business property and new firms are frequently starting up.

John Correa Vargas and Antonio Luis Furtado have about completed the purchase of the ranch of Mrs. Edeltrida Arguello. The property consists of about 340 acres and is mostly hill land adjacent to the Haines property in Brooklyn Township.

Faustine Farla has sold his house on the corner of Saunders and Carpenter streets to Jackson Silva, who is having it moved to the Rose property near the Home tract. Mr. Farla will shortly erect a new cottage on his property.

Mrs. M. J. Cardosa has sold her property on Davis street adjoining the City Hall, to Joseph and William Davena. Mrs. Cardosa has owned the property for many years, living there with her family until a few years ago, when she removed to San Francisco. The lot has a frontage of 50 feet on Davis street and extends back to the creek some 600 feet. Joseph Davena is a partner of John Fields and occupies the barber shop on the premises. William Davena is in business in Benicia. They will make no change at present, but later on they will put up a fine business block.

Ernest Anderson has secured the contract for building a six-room cottage for H. Gansberger on the Robert's Landing road.

F. Rice is making several changes to his residence on Pacific avenue. He is having the upper story cut off and will build two more rooms on the Davis street side. When the alterations are made the cottage will be a very comfortable home.

Charles Christlow is painting the new residence for the superintendent at the Home tract. The building, already presents a fine appearance from the county road.

MATTER OF REMOVING FREIGHT YARDS NOT CONSIDERED LAST NIGHT.

BERKELEY, August 11.—Action on the proposed South Berkeley franchise for the Southern Pacific freight yards was not taken up at the meeting of the Board of Town Trustees last night on account of the absence in New York of Trustee Connor, who, as the matter now stands, has the deciding vote. Connor is expected to arrive in Berkeley before the next meeting of the board and final action will be taken then. This will defer a decision for two weeks. Meanwhile the residents of South Berkeley will continue to bend every energy to defeat the plan of the Southern Pacific.

OXNARD A CANDIDATE FOR SENATORIAL HONORS.

Beet Sugar Manufacturer is out in the Field to Succeed Bard at Next Election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—Henry T. Oxnard, the beet sugar magnate, will be an active candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Bard. That much is definitely announced. The work of organizing his fight has already begun under direction of George F. Hatton, who won his spurs as a political manager by his able and successful management of Senator Perkins' campaign for re-election. Mr. Hatton says Mr. Oxnard will make his fight for the Senatorial toga in the open as Senator Perkins did, and has assurances of effective support from all parts of the State. Mr. Oxnard is especially strong in the Southern counties, and will come up with practically a solid backing from the counties south of Tehachapi.

The authoritative announcement of Oxnard's candidacy is creating something of a stir. He is recognized as a formidable competitor, and if he can get the solid support of the Southern counties is almost sure to land the prize. He is regarded with especial favor in business circles, for he is an energetic and successful business man. He is liberal and public spirited, and has done more than any other one man to develop and build up the beet sugar industry of California. He takes a broad view of public affairs, in regard to which he is singularly well informed. His business as a

STRIKE AT JUDSON MILLS NOT SETTLED.

Chambermaids and Waitresses Go On a Strike In San Francisco—Union News.

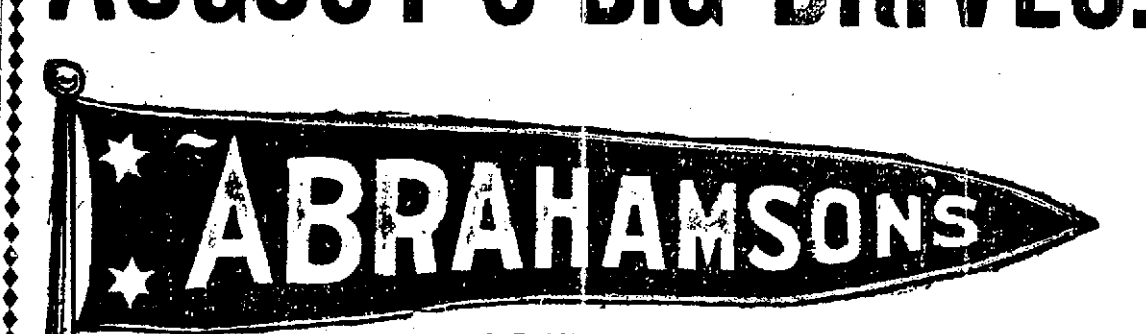

The strike at the Judson Mills at Emeryville still continues without active attempt being made apparently to settle it. Yet the hoisting engineers, the Water Front Federation, and the Building Trades Council are likely to interest themselves in it very soon if something is not done by the principals themselves. All these organizations mentioned are interested in having fair material used in the construction of buildings and they incline to the opinion that the manner in which this rolling mill strike was set about will justify them in interfering for its adjustment.

While it is true that a few men in the rolling mills proper, receive wages approximating those paid for like work in Eastern mills it is asserted that even those are not equal for similar service while the great majority of the men are not paid anywhere near the Eastern scale.

It is also alleged that there was a positive agreement on the part of the Judson Company that if it was found that after investigation that wages and wage-scales were higher in the East than in their own works they would be correspondingly increased here, and that although such was proven to be the case this promise has not been kept. Indications are good for a merry war at Emeryville pretty soon unless adjustment is effected.

STORY OF STORM HUMBERT TRIAL CONFIRMED.

MANY PEOPLE KILLED, TOWNS DESTROYED, AND 5,000 HOMELESS.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—The State Department today received a dispatch from Consul Jewett at Port de France, Martinique, dated yesterday, confirming the press report of the disastrous storm in that island. The dispatch says:

"Terrible cyclone visited entire island and midnight. Saturday, great damage crops and fruits; many houses in Port de France unroofed; trees two feet thick uprooted. One killed. Consulate intact. At Trinité seven killed, many houses destroyed. Smaller towns damaged. New villages Trinité, Pond La Haye, Fourneols and Recueux destroyed rendering 5,000 Sinistres last year's catastrophe again homeless. Reports interior island indefinite. Great discouragement."

E. J. ANDERSON.
Vice President Theatrical Stage Employees' Union.

Walker, and both were seated. A committee was appointed to visit the various unions that have not yet reported and urge them to send forward their delegates.

CARRIAGE WORKERS.
Local 150 of the Carriage and Wagon Workers decided last night to turn out in the parade in uniform. It will be black shirt, cap and apron. Two were initiated. At present trade conditions are harmonious.

BOOT AND SHOE WORKERS.
This organization will be found in line in force on Labor Day. The meeting last night initiated one candidate and received the applications of two others. It also decided that the expiration of two weeks it would take the union card away from all houses not employing union labor wholly. There was a good attendance at the meeting.

LATHERS.
The special committee appointed by the Lathers' Union at its regular meeting last week, composed of J. B. Bowen, C. Devillers and J. P. Burke, met last night to consider matters relating to the parade and to select a uniform in which the members will turn out.

LABORERS' PROTECTIVE.
A special meeting of the Laborers' Protective Association was held at the Eleventh street headquarters to consider matters in connection with the parade. Morris Scanlan, Fred Carlson, James Arlett and Theo. Mercer were appointed a special committee to look after the details.

BOYCOTT RAISED.
A victory for the Building Trades Council was gained yesterday, when the owners of the laundry at Lydia and West streets agreed with that body to cancel its order for material from the California Door Company and use fair material throughout the building. The Trades Council put all its men back on the work. This representative body will not in any instance tolerate the use of the California Door Company's material.

TEAMSTERS.
Local No. 70 of the Brotherhood of Teamsters held a large and strictly business session at its headquarters on Webster street last night. Five new members were received by initiation and five by card. It was unanimously voted to affiliate with the new Central Labor Council, and the vote carried with it the approval of the new constitution.

The regular donation of $5 was given to the Omaha Central Union and $25 voted the telephone linemen of this city and the union's telephone was ordered taken out as a further evidence that they are with the linemen to help them win.

On Labor Day the teamsters will be in line and will have a handsome float drawn by six horses and they say they are going to have one of the prizes given and it won't be the poorest one either.

A special meeting has been decided upon for next Monday night, to be held at Labor Day matters especially. Seventeen applications are on file for membership.

BUTCHERS.
The big hall at 453 Eighth street ought to have had walls of rubber last night in order to have comfortably accommodated the crowd that filled it.

Sixty were initiated and it will not be long until every knight of the cleaver in Oakland will be in line or out of work.

During the past week all the retailers but one have signed the wage scale. Liberal donation was made to the striking linemen. The following executive board was appointed: Joel Thacker, Thomas E. McGovern, M. F. Schleith, W. Short, W. Greenfield, J. J. Murphy, H. C. Hoff, W. Berman, George Lammon.

BROTHERHOOD CARPENTERS.
At California Hall last night the District Council of the Brotherhood of Carpenters declared that the Pardee job was an unfair one on account of the non-union carpenters at work upon it. It is also stated that boys under 18 years of age are doing lathing upon it. A week ago the Building Trades Council took similar action.

Delegates were admitted from the new
